Gaye Weatherly of Weatherly Tile & Stone, Inc., Portsmouth, RI, offers natural stone and specialty tile products, including the largest selection of glass tile in New England. Gaye's art background (MA Art History, University of Washington and Masters Graduate, Oxford University, England), and her extensive project management experience enable her to provide creative services in the achievement of large and small projects.

Lavette

The lavette incorporates Wharton's love for Newport's water, sky and beaches, and her preference for classicism in home décor.

The handmade mosaic glass floor is a classic bordered design using watery, iridescent Italian mother-of-pearl and aquamarine tiles. Pristine white subway wall tile, a 4" x 8" wavy style, rises to 52". A single row of 1.5" x 8" glass aquamarine listello tile caps the white walls – accentuating the color and iridescent efforts of the floor tiles. The listello tiles are topped by a decorative white capello. The remaining walls are hand-painted and textured in old-world-style Italian glazes.

Kitchen Area

Weatherly is also placing fabricated slabs of Honed Black Slate on a custom cabinet that will showcase handmade, one-of-a-kind glass sinks by artist Mark Hursty. The unique vessel sinks will be an exclusive at Weatherly Tile & Stone, Inc. as of June 20th.
